The Richardson School, “Home of the Bobcats,” educates children with developmental, neurological and behavioral disabilities. We believe a child’s opportunity to learn and engage with peers is a constant need, even when school is closed for breaks.

This is why we’ve combined our unique school setting, expert staff, and creative energy to provide exceptional camp opportunities over spring break and the summer months for children with disabilities.

Bobcat Camp stresses learning opportunities as well as community-integration experiences. Children will have the opportunity to practice skills in both a safe school environment and the community on a weekly basis. Off-site field trips will be used to re-emphasize the skills being taught during the day.

On-site opportunities include a playground, full gymnasium, sensory room, art classes, computer lab, social skills classes and much more. Bobcat camp provides a high staff-to-child ratio, daily lunch and also covers all costs for trips. We are accepting campers now!
